

Gender Identity—Intermediate

Compiled by Joan Pearce from ERAC, SOGI 123 & Reviews

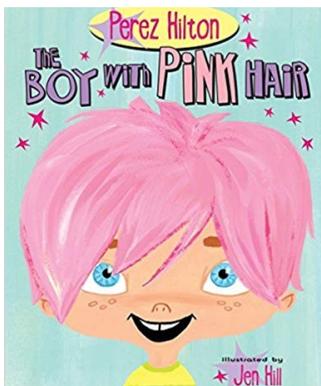

Picture Book Format

Not Every Princess by Lisa and Jeffrey Bone
"This simply written and beautifully illustrated picture book contains a powerful message: stereotypical gender roles should not limit children's imagination, dreams or aspirations." - ERAC (Gr. 1–4)

In Our Mothers' House by Patricia Polacco
"This is the story of Marmee and Meema (two moms) and their three adopted children of differing ethnicities. The oldest child narrates as she recalls what it was like growing up within the love and comfort of her family's home." - ERAC (Gr. 2–6)

The Boy With Pink Hair by P. Hilton
"The Boy with Pink Hair was born that way and although people laugh at him, he loves pink, he loves his family, and he loves to cook. When he begins school he is bullied and teased and he learns that it is difficult being different, but when there is a disaster in the school cafeteria it is The Boy with the Pink Hair to the rescue and he shows everyone that his difference did in fact make a difference.- ERAC (K–5)

Gender Identity—Intermediate

Compiled by Joan Pearce from ERAC, SOGI 123 & Reviews

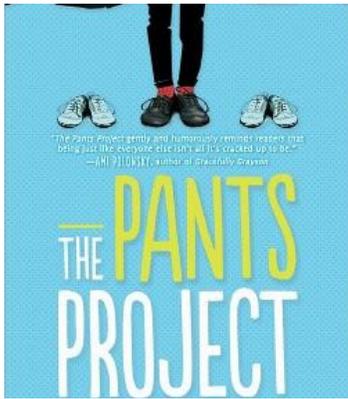

Novels

GEORGE

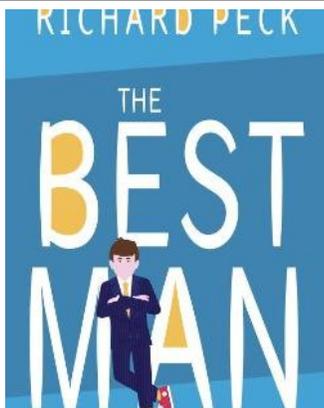

George by Alex Gino

"George has a secret: he was born as a boy but identifies as a girl. When the class puts on a play of Charlotte's Web, George dreams of playing Charlotte, but isn't allowed to audition for the part as a boy can't play a girl's role. George and her best friend develop a plan for opening night that lets George be Charlotte and lets everyone finally learn who she really is. This engaging and honest novel introduces gender identity struggles and gender stereotypes in a way that intermediate students can understand." - ERAC (Gr. 4–7)

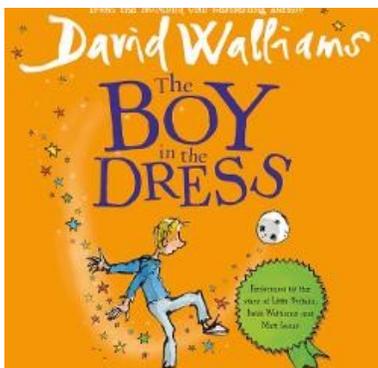

The Pants Project by Cat Clarke

"Liv, who is struggling with gender identity and identifies as a boy, attends a school with a uniform policy that requires her to wear a skirt. She develops a series of plans to deal with the problem and recruits her friends to help have the uniform policy modified so she can finally wear pants. This realistic story about a student trying to change her situation to feel more authentic and comfortable would be useful as a class read-aloud, literature circle title, or for a classroom library for grades 6-8." - ERAC

The Best Man by Richard Peck

"This is the coming-of-age story of Archer, who narrates events in his life from grades 1 to 6. He relates incidences of bullying, sexual orientation, gay marriage, family life, and his special relationships with his immediate family and grandparents, as he thinks about the kind of person he wants to become. Suitable for grades 5-9, the novel can be read, discussed, and reflected upon for a novel study, journal writing, literature circles, creative writing, and class discussions, and deals with themes of bullying, gender..." - ERAC

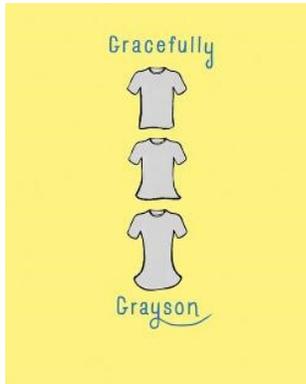

The Boy in the Dress by David Walliams

"Twelve year old Dennis loves soccer and he also loves Vogue magazine. With the encouragement of his older friend, Lisa, who shares his love of fashion, he fulfills his desire to wear dresses in public... with unexpected consequences." - ERAC (Gr. 4–7)

Gender Identity—Intermediate

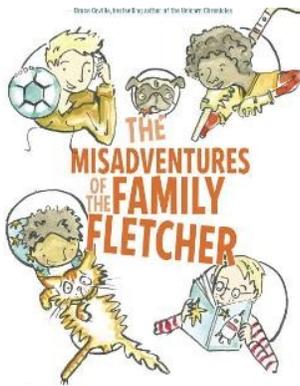

Compiled by Joan Pearce from ERAC, SOGI 123 & Reviews

Novels

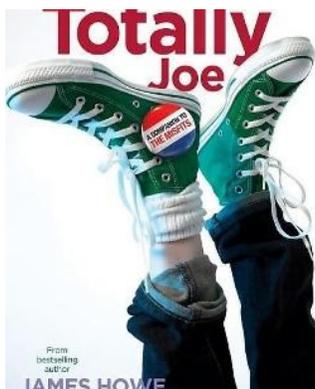

Gracefully Grayson by A. Polonsky

"Grayson, born male but identifying as female, hides her true identity until she tries out for the school play as the female lead. She struggles with the fall-out, including bullying at school and at home, until she accepts herself and lives according to her true gender identity. This novel for grades 6-8 deals sensitively and honestly with the struggles people face when who they are doesn't match what other people think they should be. Suitable for independent reading or a lit circle, the novel deals with self-identity..." - ERAC

Misadventures of the Family Fletcher by Dana Levy

"This novel follows the escapades of the Fletcher family - a family of two dads and adopted siblings of differing race. The focus is not on the gay parents or the interracial family but rather on the lessons learned from the misadventures." - ERAC (Gr. 4-8)

Totally Joe by James Howe

"Joe's teacher asks his seventh-grade class to write an alphabiography throughout the year, presenting themselves and their lives in entries from A to Z. Joe's resulting autobiography gives the reader insight into what it is like to be a 12 year old boy coming to terms with his sexuality." - ERAC (G. 6-8)

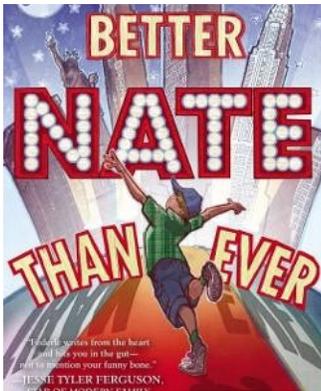

The Misfits by James Howe

"This novel examines social issues of current society. A group of small town students who are considered misfits because of perceived differences (sexual preference, weight, height and ethnicity) overcome adversity. In doing so, they change attitudes at their school. The book deals with difficult topics with sensitivity and humour, and provides an excellent tool for classroom discussion and a way to safely explore difficult topics." - ERAC (Gr. 7-9)

Gender Identity—Intermediate

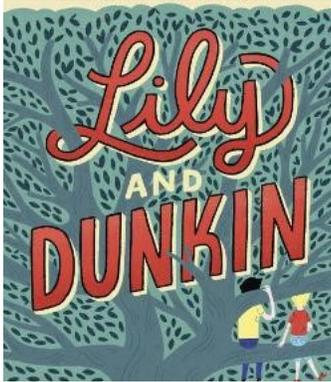

Compiled by Joan Pearce from ERAC, SOGI 123 & Reviews

Novels

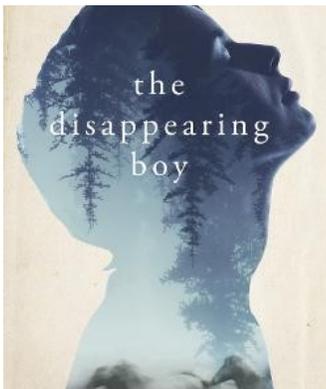

Better Nate Than Ever by Tim Federle

"The adventures of Nate, who has followed his dream of being a Broadway star and run off to New York, will provide a gentle and engaging introduction to the topic of gender identity for intermediate/middle school students." - ERAC (Gr. 6–8) *Note: there are other titles in this series.

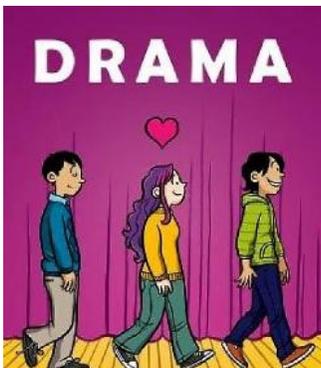

Lily and Dunkin by Donna Gephart

"Lily, born Tim and assigned "male" at birth, is bullied at school over her gender expression and perceived sexual orientation. She struggles to find acceptance and in the process befriends Dunkin, who is new to the community and is also searching for acceptance, while struggling with trauma in his life and ensuring his bipolar disorder doesn't interfere with his acceptance." - ERAC (Gr. 6–8)

The Disappearing Boy by Sonia Tilson

"Thirteen-year-old Neil must deal with incredibly complex family relationships: he doesn't know the identity of his father, his mother moves them from Vancouver to Ottawa where they connect with a grandmother Neil had no awareness of, he learns his mother is transgender, and these discoveries prompt him to run away to New Brunswick to seek solace with a grandfather he has never met, but his grandfather's intolerance drives Neil and his mother..." - ERAC (Gr. 6–8)

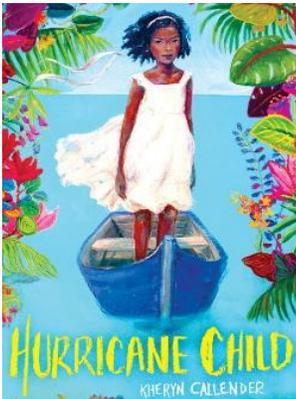

Drama by Raina Telgemeier

"Callie rides an emotional roller coaster while serving on the stage crew for a middle school production of Moon over Mississippi as various relationships start and end, and others never quite get going." - Follett Gr. 5–8 (SOGI 123)

Gender Identity—Intermediate

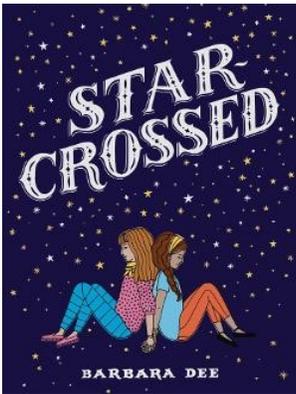

Compiled by Joan Pearce from ERAC, SOGI 123 & Reviews

Novels

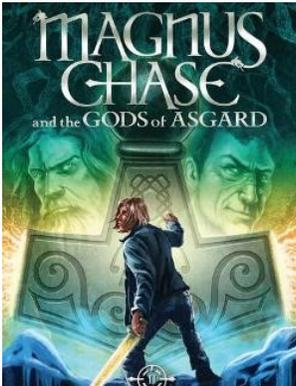

Hurricane Child by Kheryn Callender

"Caroline is a child born during a large-scale tropical storm—a hurricane child. She feels entirely unlucky. Her friends have abandoned her...and her mother left when she was young. But when she finds a new friend and comes across a mysterious lady in black, everything begins to change, including her conceptualization of gender and identity." - (SOGI 123, Gr. 4–7)

Star-crossed by Barbara Dee

"Twelve-year-old Mattie wrestles with her crush on Gemma as they participate in their school production of Romeo and Juliet in what School Library Journal calls "a fine choice for middle school libraries in need of an accessible LGBTQ stories." - Pub. (SOGI 123)

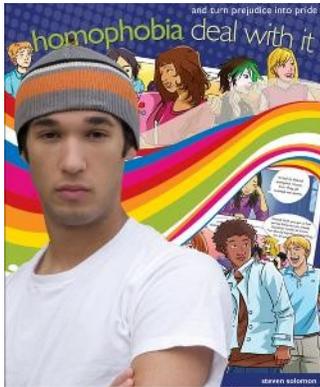

Magnus Chase and the Gods of Asgard, Book Two: The Hammer of Thor Rick Riordan

"Thor's hammer is missing again. The thunder god has a disturbing habit of misplacing his weapon--the mightiest force in the Nine Worlds. But this time the hammer isn't just lost, it has fallen into enemy hands. If Magnus Chase and his friends can't retrieve the hammer quickly, the mortal worlds will be defenseless against an onslaught of giants." - Amazon.ca (SOGI 123, Gr. 5–8)

Gender Identity—Intermediate

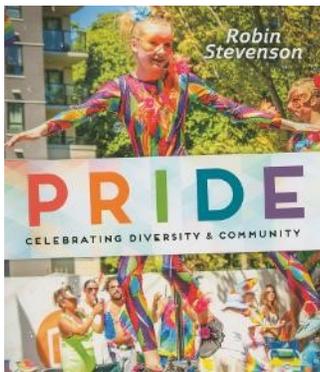

Compiled by Joan Pearce from ERAC, SOGI 123 & Reviews

Non-fiction

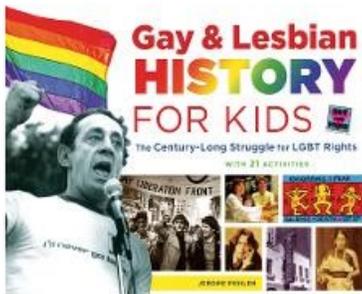

Homophobia: Deal With It and Turn Prejudice into Pride by Steve Solomon.

"This interactive, highly visual and easily accessible book defines homophobia and leads readers to consider seriously their own actions and attitudes, and how they can learn to treat everyone with respect. It could be used to generate discussion about homophobia and its direct effect on the lives of middle school students." - ERAC (Gr. 5–8)

Pride: Celebrating Diversity and Community by Robin Stevenson

"Do you know anything about Pride beyond the fact that there's usually a parade? Do you know where it started or how many different ways it's celebrated around the globe? "ride is Robin Stevenson's contribution to an often-neglected discussion, especially among young people, but her book makes the subject accessible and relevant." - SOGI 123, Gr. 7–10

Gay & Lesbian History for Kids: the Century-Long Struggle for LGBT Rights by Jerome Pohlen

"From bayard Rustin to Alan Turing, from Harvey Milk to Dr. magnus Hirschfeld, Pohlen's text chronicles the incredible lives of LGBT individuals throughout history. Furthermore, Pohlen's book includes activities to get young readers thinking and allow them to find out more about LGBT people in significant events." - SOGI 123, Gr. 7–10